FASHIONABLE PHILANTHROPY BENEFITS
FAMILY SERVICES OF GREATER HOUSTON

Houston fashionistas gathered at TOOTSIES in Highland Village on May 12th to shop in support of Family Services of Greater Houston. The all-day shopping event was hosted by Rosemary Schatzman and Stephanie Shanks and offered a first glance at new sale items. A private reception with cocktails closed the day's events.

The event featured designer Monique Lhuillier's fall 2005 ready to wear collection. Other highlights included fashion-forward suits, designer sportswear, jewelry, handbags, shoes and accessories. A portion of the proceeds from sales throughout the day were donated to Family Services. The event helped raise $1500 for Family Services' counseling, education and support services to Houston-area children and families so that they have the tools needed to improve their lives and the community.

A private cocktail reception capped the event. Sophia Adrogué, Shelley Corman, Samoan Johnson, Stephen Fraga and Michelle Martinez, Astrid VanDyke, and Sue Worscheh were among the friends and board members in attendance. Many thanks to Image-Catcher Photograph who captured the fun on film.

Since 1904, Family Services of Greater Houston has continually adapted to meet the needs of Houston-area families. Our mission is to strengthen individuals, families and communities through the provision of preventive, supportive and therapeutic services.
